

Dear All:

Greetings from BuzzOnEarth and Chandrakanta Kesavan Center (CKC), IIT Kanpur.

We are happy to share that Buzzonearth and CKC are organising India's largest Climate Hackathon – BuzzOnEarth-Kesavan Center India Hackathon. The Hackathon is being organised at IIT Kanpur during the India-UK Symposium on Sustainability.

About BuzzOnEarth-Kesavan Center India Hackathon:

This Hackathon is a pan-India initiative to provide a national platform to innovative young minds willing to contribute and make a change to the climate. We request you come forward as the changemakers and innovators for the most urgent climate and sustainability challenges.

About India-UK Symposium: This India-UK symposium will feature thought-provoking discussions on the connections between energy generation and storage technologies, efficient system integration schemes, food and water production security, and the overall goal of decarbonisation to achieve NetZero, as well as their impact on socio-economic indicators.

The symposium will also have participation from Industry leaders, Entrepreneurs, Incubators, CXOs, Directors, Government Officials, Academic Institutions, Sustainability Professionals and Consultants, Think-tanks, Policy experts and key decision-makers across India and UK.

Over 500+ delegates are expected to participate in this event, which will be an excellent opportunity to network with the world's leading experts.

The students can APPLY HERE | Deadline Submission for Online Climate Hackathon: 15th April 2023
